Extending the reach of GIS

With Dekho, you're in control, getting things done faster and delivering exceptional applications that make a real difference.

Dekho is your bridge to extend the reach of GIS to everyone.

What is Dekho?

Dekho® is a market leading geographic web application server. Dekho geographic web applications extend the reach of GIS in your organisation and to the public.

Dekho completes the picture by leveraging ArcGIS® services and integrating maps, corporate data and systems to provide you with powerful applications that can solve real-world problems.

Dekho applications are easy to access and navigate so that everyone can utilise and benefit from Geographic Information Systems (GIS).

With Dekho applications, you have the right information, when you need it.

GIS Manager

Graham – With Dekho, we extend the reach of GIS to non-specialist users through self-service geographic web applications that leverage the ArcGIS system.

Application User

Sarah – Dekho applications complete the picture by bringing everything together to make my job easier.

As a GIS Manager, Dekho means:

Rapid delivery

- Create rich and powerful geographic web applications without programming using wizard style configuration

Easy management

- Control roles, data access, tools and reports with a web-based management console

Built to integrate

- Easily connect to any data source, system or service from our geographic web applications

In my day-to-day job, I use Dekho to:

Get things done faster

- Instant access to maps, information, tools and reports in an easy to use application

Make better decisions

- Working with up to date maps and relevant information allows me to make better, more accurate decisions

Complete the picture

- Geographic web applications bring together all the information I need to complete tasks efficiently

'Dekho is a fast and effective way of creating dynamic geographic web applications.'

'Dekho brings together data, tools, analysis and reports to improve outcomes and get things done faster.'

Business Manager

Richard – Dekho is the right choice for our business and supports future growth requirements.

Dekho was the right choice for our business:

Return on investment

- Through rapid deployment and wide spread user adoption, we quickly achieved return on investment

Reduced risk

- By choosing a proven, industry best practice product and avoiding custom development, we reduced ongoing risks

Cost-effective

- Dekho is a cost-effective solution for extending the reach of GIS to the business with support, maintenance and upgrades that reduce ongoing costs

Dekho is the result of Esri Australia's decades of GIS experience and understanding that comes from working with customers.

Dekho is the smart choice to help you extend the reach of GIS with geographic web applications.
